COMMERCIAL BASEBALL LEAGUE UNDERWAY

Twilight Games For City Players Being Promoted by Salem Y. M. C. A.

A commercial baseball league along the same lines as the commercial basketball league of the Y. M. C. A. is being promoted by O. B. Gingrich, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. As yet the proposed league has not emerged from the promotion stage but Mr. Gingrich says his efforts are meeting with good assurance and that it will be entirely possible to organize a three team, and possibly a four team league within the city.

The Y. M. C. A. has the advantages of good dressing quarters, plenty of shower baths and a good enclosed athletic field after June 7 when the Willamette athletic field is turned over to the Y. M. C. A. for the summer. The fans in Salem have been without a chance to stretch their lungs for one season and the fans generally about the city would be glad of a chance to watch a few baseball games this summer. The games will all be played after 6 o'clock on week nights.

It is the opinion of the promoters of the league that out of the younger baseball players of the city at least four good teams can be chosen. As in the basketball league a league will permit of four times the men being given a chance to play that one single team would. Then should the occasion arise it will be a simple matter to select a single team from the star players of the league to represent the city of association in games with outside teams.

It is proposed to secure the suits from the business houses represented by the team. The other expenses and the purchase of the models or prizes to be given will be charged for each of the contests. The league schedule will be made up after the teams are selected and the managers and captains are appointed. The business house represented by the team will select its own manager who will have charge of the finances of the team and the active management.

The purpose of the league is to create an active interest in baseball in the city and to give numerous active youngsters a chance to play in an organized league which will eliminate the undesirable features that often accompany a pickup team. The commercial league will also serve the valuable purpose of keeping recruit players in condition for the city team and seasoning them in case they were found to be too inexperienced for the older team.

In case the business houses take up the matter the teams will be picked in the near future and practice schedule run through before the regular schedule is started.

Little things console us because most of our afflictions are little ones.

OLD BALL GROUNDS NEAR PENITENTIARY HAVE BEEN LEASED

Promoters of Salem Baseball Club Expect to Open Season First of May

Details of the arrangements are practically complete for the lease of the old ball grounds at the head of State street near the penitentiary, by the promoters of the Salem semi-professional baseball club and the work of grading, leveling and dressing down the old field will probably be commenced within a few days. The grounds belong to Arch Jermain, the old ball player.

John D. Turner, who has been acting on behalf of the promoters of the club in the management of its affairs had made a proposition to the Salem school board for the lease of the public school ball park, between 12th and 14th north, and had also received a proposition for the lease of a tract of ground belonging to J. H. Albert in Yew Park, but these prospects have been abandoned since it was found the Jermain grounds could be leased.

The Salem semi-professional team is practically organized and with a little practice and work necessary to take out the kinks and loosen up the muscles will soon be in shape to open up the season. The team will be composed for the most part with local talent and there will be no high priced players, the object being to play with teams of Willamette valley towns and to localize the sport and spirit of rivalry as much as possible. While Dallas, McMinnville, Silverton, Woodburn, Eugene and some other towns in the valley have signified a willingness to organize clubs and form a league, it is doubtful if this can be brought about successfully and the games that Salem will play will probably be such as can be arranged from time to time for Saturday afternoon and Sunday ball.

No specific plans have been worked out by the promoters of the club but it is expected that the team and the grounds will be put into condition to open the season about the first of May.

NORTH HOWELL WINS.

North Howell, April 8.—Central Howell was over-confident when the North Howell school and the Central Howell school crossed bats on the former's diamond Tuesday afternoon. The score was 10 to 6 in North Howell's favor. The Central Howell team had won five consecutive games with different teams this season. The North Howell lineup was as follows: Charles Waltman, p; Charles Woolke, c; Theron Cowan, 1b; Alvin Cowan, 2b; Andrew Schmidt, 3b; Frank Russ, ss; Fred Coulter, cf; Earl Boney, cf; Peter Russ, lf. The Amstutz pitched for Central Howell and Tommy Tive caught.

MISS BUSCH TO MARRY.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—Miss Marie Busch, grand daughter of the late Adolphus Busch, will be married to night at the Busch estate here to C. Drummond Jones, famous tennis player and society favorite of St. Louis. The bridegroom is believed to be the most costly ever carried by a St. Louis bride, and the ceremony will be performed under a canopy of 2,000 lilies of the valley.

Despite the lavishness and costliness of the decorations, the wedding will be extremely simple, according to the family.

The youth who is unwilling to see the mark usually remains at the foot.

FAREWELL FEAST AT HOTEL MARION IS BIG SUCCESS

Over 100 Friends Wish Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meredith Godspeed at Banquet

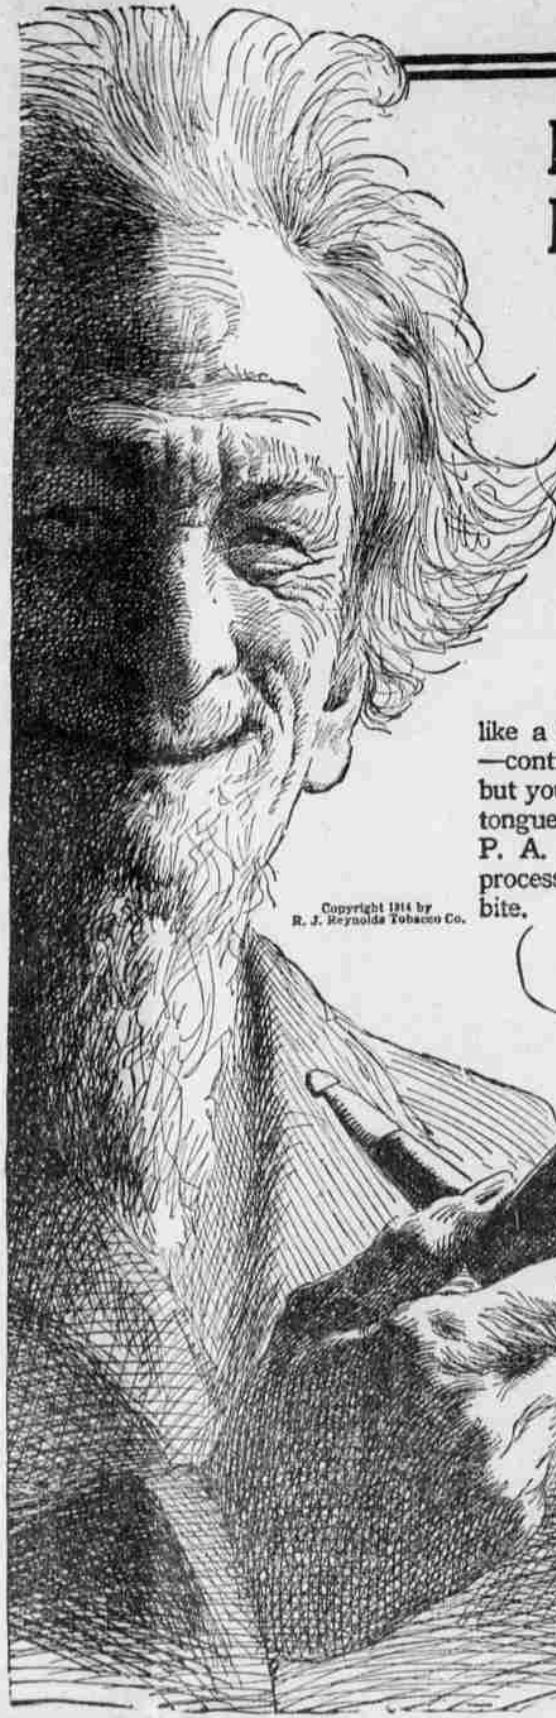

If Frank Meredith, the retiring secretary of the Oregon state fair board, and his estimable wife, Mrs. Amelia Meredith, ever entertained the slightest doubt as to the high regard in which they are and have been held by the people of the city of Salem, Marion county and the state of Oregon in all walks of life, and if Mr. Meredith harbored any misgivings as to the sincerity of openly-expressed appreciation of the valuable service he has rendered to the state of Oregon in the capacity of secretary of the Oregon state fair, and regrets felt in his departure from this city to take up his work in a strange field and among strangers, surely those doubts and misgivings must have been forever dispelled by the warm and hearty demonstration of good-fellowship and good-fellowship extended to them upon the occasion of the farewell banquet given in their honor at the Hotel Marion last evening.

More than 100 ladies and gentlemen, comprising some of the best people in the business, social, professional and official circles of Salem, Marion county and the state of Oregon gathered around the festive board in the spacious dining hall of the Hotel Marion and partook of the delectable viands which Manager Church provided for the auspicious event, and, while it was impossible for all to give voice to his or her feelings, appropriate to the purpose of the gathering, it is certain that every kind and cheering word uttered by the selected spokesmen and spokeswoman of the evening found a hearty echo in the hearts and thoughts of every being present.

Every speaker that responded to the toasts for which he or she was programmed recalled some incident in his business and social life in which Mr. Meredith was pleasantly associated, and each one struck a harmonious and responsive chord in the breasts of their auditors. As toastmaster, George F. Rodgers, with his customary geniality, wholesome wit and humor, did the expected, in fact, did himself proud upon this occasion; the excellent quality of music dispensed by Staudenmeyer's orchestra; the splendidly executed vocalizations performed by Mrs. Hallie Parrish-Hinges; the decorations which, although modest and simple, were very tasty and in keeping with the spirit of the incident; the good things to eat; in fact, the very atmosphere was charged with a superlative degree of harmony and sincerity of thought and purpose never before experienced upon an occasion of the kind in this city.

Space forbids relating in detail or even comment upon all of the responses made to the toasts of the evening, but some strong facts were brought out in some of the speeches, or rather, informal heart-to-heart talks, which emphasized the belief and the fact that to the untiring energy, zeal, diplomacy, civility and enterprise of Secretary Meredith, and his efficient corps of office and outside assistants, has been due the great upbuilding of the Oregon state fair to its present degree of success, and, while much regret was expressed in his going away to accept the position with the Washington state fair association, at North Yakima, Mr. Meredith's friends and supporters—and they are legion—found some solace in the intelligence that he has contracted his services with the Washington fair board for a limited period, and that he may come back to Salem at no very distant date.

While Mr. and Mrs. Meredith were the guests of honor upon this festive

Will Inquire Into Expulsion of Pinchot

Washington, April 7.—Counselor Robert Lansing of the state department declared today he was awaiting a full report from American Minister Van Dyke at The Hague regarding the expulsion of Gifford Pinchot, former United States chief forester, from Belgium by the Germans.

Although the action of the Kaiser's officers in expelling Pinchot is regarded as a serious incident, inasmuch as he is an agent of the state department, no action will be taken until detailed information is received.

The government also probably will investigate the reference of the German embassy in its statement issued yesterday as to the "attack" made upon the steamer Glenwald at San Juan, Porto Rico. The statement of the embassy alleged that the "attack" upon the Glenwald was unwarranted, Counselor Lansing declared he had not noted "any belligerency on Germany's part in her relations with the United States."
